

GIZZARD DEFATTENER

foodmate

Poultry Processing Systems

The Foodmate Defattener is designed for removing gastric contents and fat from the surface of previously opened gizzards. The Gizzard defattener is situated after the gizzard harvester.

Gizzards are automatically placed inside the machine, where they individually get between rotating rubber fingers which remove the excess fat. There they are cleaned off fat and gastric contents and washed with water. After these operations, the gizzards are moved to the outlet.

Quality of cleaning and the capacity of the machine depends on the size of processed gizzards, the amount of fat and quantity of supplied water. The defattener is designed for co-operating with the gizzard cleaner. Gizzard outlet can be directed to the cleaner table, where the next operation is performed - removal of skin from the inside of gizzards.
